CLASS POEM

We're just a bunch of ornery kids, so folks say,
Just because we have some fun and act a little gay.
But we've worked hard and studied our best,
And hope we've passed our final test.

Carole was President of our Senior Class,
And with her high grades she is sure to pass,
The points she scored in basketball
Will well be remembered by one and all.

Larry Palma is a quiet boy;
Having fun he does enjoy.
In all his classes he was a whiz;
A regular guy this kid is.

A secretary, Carolyn wants to be,
And she'd do alright we all agree.
Although she's American, she's part Indian, too.
When you make friends with her, she's a pal that's true blue.

Now one thing just between you and me
An artist Richard Victor could easily be.
In chasing the girls he couldn't be beat;
He's always seen driving his car, Candy Sweet.

Fran, who is known by us all,
Is as you know, not very tall.
She's original, friendly, and lots of fun;
Count on her for a job well done.

Gary liked sports, band, and Lana, too,
But there were other things he liked to do.
His smile, his laugh, and witty ways
Made him the bright spot of our high-school days.

This cute little miss was our Band Queen.
You'd see her leading the cheers for the team.
To be well dressed Beverly did choose;
A date with Dallas she'd never refuse.

Who was always in on the fun?
No guessing needed, Larry Spring is the one.
He was always driving his pick-up around,
So he must have had a girl in every town.

Mary Willits is quite a gal.
To all of us she is a true pal.
She's always ready to help anyone
Whether in work or just in fun.

Bob, the boy with mysterious powers,
Was noted for keeping the latest hours.
He is carefree and careless all the while,
And if he was arrested for speeding, he'd sleep through the trial.

Sandy, whom we know by name,
Had a smile that won her fame.
To drive the Ford was her delight.
Especially with the gang on Wednesday night.

Richard Hartman is the latest to join our ranks,
And to Creston High we express our thanks.
Whenever there's excitement, he's always around.
But when teachers appeared he couldn't be found.

Janice is always ready with a joke.
Let's hope her good spirits will never be broke.
We listen to what she has to say,
Remembering it only 'till the end of day.

Dallas Walter was known as the basketball star
And could always be found in his green car.
He's the guy with the crew-cut hair,
Without a problem or without a care.

Sue was great in sports and band,
And was always around to lend a hand.
She looked so quiet and shy and trim,
But no one knows the thoughts within.

A boy who's bashful with our gals-
We think Dave is a real swell pal.
He had many friends and his cares were few.
Happiness will be his in the future, too.

DeAnn is going with all the nurses to be
To the University of Iowa to get her nurses degree.
To her nursing career she'll always be true,
And we wish her success and happiness too.

Of our class Larry Hofmeister was the clown.
Always a smile and never a frown.
In sports he always did excel,
And in the future he'll do well.

Lana, the blond in our class with the closet full of clothes,
Had a lot of trouble with her many beaus.
She'd give a contagious laugh and grin,
And add to her list another friend.

Sid was always musically inclined,
And a better friend you'll never find.
He had a habit of blushing a lot,
Whether he was embarrassed or not.

This lad made it a point to have some fun,
But Dick managed to get his lessons done.
With all the girls he gets along swell,
What he'd do next you never could tell.

Our classmate Shirley, likes to play Simple Simon,
So she can show off that sparkling diamond.
At school she is quiet as can be,
But when the day is over wait and see.

Larry Green was good in athletics and studies
And was well liked by all his buddies.
His marks were good and his goals were high-
Just some of the traits of this all around guy.

In our class is Mary Louise, so shy,
Who would never flirt with any guy.
As a friend to all, enemy to none,
You can always look her way for fun.

Dallas Blazek, whose wealth was great,
In his Ford he picked up his date.
His pranks will be remembered as the years go by;
He never got caught, and we all wondered why.

Next of the list Helen appears.
Not having her lessons she never feared.
Her goals were high, her marks fair,
When in trouble, you'll find her there.

Our names are Janet and Betty, so we'll take the blame
If we have misplaced or misspelled your name.
As far as poets we'll never be,
If you don't believe us take a look and see.

Now we've reviewed them one by one,
The departing Seniors of "61".
We bid you farewell, and each go our own way,
And hope we will all meet again some day.

CLASS PROPHECY

Recently at the fabulous Aristocrat Theater, before the curtains parted for a magnificent performance of "Southern Belle," starring CAROLYN KNAPP, the houselights dimmed and a spotlight began picking out distinguished personages in the audience.

It fell first on the President, LARRY PALMA and two members of his cabinet: Secretary of Army, HELEN BAUER and Treasurer of the United States, JANICE PETERSON. Sitting near the President were General DICK BLAZEK and the football coach at Dayton, DALLAS WALTER. The eyes of the audience then followed the spotlight to Colonel DALLAS BLAZEK, who holds the highest academic award from West Point. LARRY GREEN, our present ambassador to the Latin American Countries, and DAVID NELSON, now coaching the Globelrotters, shared a bow. The spotlight was then drawn to the center aisle where our attention to dare-devil racers, BOB SHIRES, and RICHARD HARTMAN, who were being treated for minor bruises by Dr. Jones and his assistants: Nurses, DEANN ANDERSON and SUE GREEN.

As the orchestra, led by the renowned maestro, GARY BEATTY, prepared us for the opening scene, we glanced at the program and recognized such famous and familiar names as: SHIRLEY COLEMAN, director and dialectic supervisor and BEVERLY TRUMAN, designer of the beautiful costumes.

After the show, in the lobby, we chatted with pilot FRANCES HETHCOTE and Stewardess CAROLE CAMPBELL, who had caught the play between flights. We chatted briefly with the "Powder-Puff" cosmetic firm, as we left the theater.

Enroute to the Cafe-Paris we crossed the fabulous Glass Bridge, designed by LARRY SPRING. Upon our arrival at the Cafe-Paris we were greeted by many old friends including the owner of the cafe, SID WOOD. After we were seated at our table we began discussing RICHARD VICTOR's newest painting that had just been hung in place of honor and was the object of much comment, until movie actress, LANA GREEN made an appearance. When LARRY HOFMEISTER, owner of the "Rock" night club entered, we began to realize how the evening had brought us in contact with nearly all our former classmates. Now it is time for us, BETTY SCOTT, now a psychiatrist, SANDRA WILKINSON, owner of Buzz Telephone Company and JANET SORENSEN, composer of the "Lonely Hearts" column in the New York Times, to complete our most enjoyable evening. The final link in the chain from the past fell into place as MARY WILLITS, the most successful commercial teacher at BIA in New York, rose to offer a toast to the class of "61".

We have discovered many precious things in this school--friendship, knowledge, and happiness. We worked, we learned, we loved, we lived. We were challenged by our teachers, by our parents, and we shall continue to be challenged as we begin the new life that lies beyond. Although we will be separated, our memories of P.H.S. will linger on.

The center of attraction is Henry, Aunt Ethel's nephew. After he loses his job and his girlfriend, Gladys, he decided there was nothing left for him in this world. When he went for a walk one evening, he gave a certain bum, precisely Mr. Bumpus, $18.83 to find someone to dispose of him. The so-called "killer" was called Earnest. After Henry went home he found that he had his job and his girl back. He had forgotten that he was to be disposed of until someone mentioned the name 'Earnest'. Then every person he met whose name even came close to being Earnest he believed was going to dispose of him. It all turned out just right in the end and Henry really learned to live from then on.
